

PENN Handle Cross Reference

We've had quite a few requests along the lines of "Can you tell me what other handle will fit my reel?" over the past few years, so our tech took the time to put together a cross reference of handles to bridges, assigning a letter type to each corresponding bridge/sleeve and handle. You can use this info to find the handle you would prefer for your reel.

You can scroll down this page to see each section of types of bridges/sleeves compared to reels they fit.

There are links throughout the page to go to each of the handle ordering pages, once you figure out what type that you need.

Choosing a handle that is compatible with your reel, other than the standard handle.

NOTE(s):

- LEFT-HANDED MODELS: use same handle types as standard versions
- Some handles may require additional parts to make a conversion. You may see some reel-specific notes regarding those parts in some of the handle screens when you click on the part numbers to view the handles on the page linked below.
- If a reel is NOT listed under a particular type, then it is NOT compatible with any handle of that type.
